

2015 Rudderless - Gary Walsh Reviews

Shiraz 2015

'Excellent name for a winery. I think we all feel a bit rudderless at times. Succulent style, and smooth with it. I'm smelling mixed berries, ginger biscuits, plenty of spice, and a little vanilla. Medium bodied, fruits of the forest, silky fine grained tannin, layers of spice, balanced acidity, and a fresh and juicy finish. Balance here is spot on. A little more finesse and sophistication than your usual McLaren Vale Shiraz, perhaps.'

Rated : 94 Points
Tasted : Aug17
Alcohol : 14.5%
Price : $35
Closure : Screwcap
Drink : 2018 – 2026

Posted 31 August 2017
Gary Walsh

Malbec 2015

'Proprietor Doug Govan has a significant fancy for the wines of Wendouree, and indeed, some of his 487 Malbec vines are sourced from cuttings from Wendouree. What a good wine. It's so Malbec-y and lovely. I'm thinking rich plum, rose oil, mint, spiced biscuits and vanilla, and maybe even lavender. Medium to full bodied, thick and fleshy tannin, mouth- perfume, and luxurious ripe plum, raspberry and cinnamon studded pear poached in, erm, Malbec?, settled acidity and a spicy plum duff aftertaste. Silky and long. It's a life full of surprises, I reckon.'

Rated : 94 Points
Tasted : Sep17
Alcohol : 14%
Price : $35
Closure : Screwcap
Drink : 2017 - 2025+

Posted on 06 September 2017
Gary Walsh